

Naomi Ivie, 45 Wyllys Avenue, WesBox 90270, Middletown, CT 06459
nivie@wesleyan.edu • 860/436-7048 • linkedin.com/in/naomi-ivie

August 16, 2025

Recruiting Team

Goldman Sachs
200 West Street
New York, NY 10282

Dear Goldman Sachs Recruiting Team,

I am writing to apply for the asset management summer analyst position within the Wealth Management Division at Goldman Sachs. After attending a recruiting session through Wesleyan's Investment Group and speaking with current analyst Mike Dunderdale, I was struck by the care with which Goldman Sachs' asset and wealth management divisions handled their clients. The commitment to excellence and doing the right thing in service of their clientele stood out to me, as it aligns with my mission to uphold moral values in the face of fierce opposition. Moreover, their unwavering commitment to lifelong learning resonates with me. My goal of becoming an excellent investor and increasing the representation of black people within this space will be easily realized through this commitment. I believe my mission and dedication will help me thrive in the fast-paced environment of wealth management.

I served in the capacity of an internationally renowned Model UN Conference as Head of Finance and Operations, overseeing the allocation of $100,000+ to the deployment of a conference body serving two-hundred guests from 20 countries. Within this role, I oversaw the financial planning, budgeting and expenditure of five large-scale conference events, four teams and over two-hundred hotel accommodations, feeding and logistics for the span of the four-day conference. This improved my financial management skills and ability to lead and adapt to change, while assimilating large volumes of information within a short period of time. I also envisioned and executed three investment pitches, leading to nearly $10,000 invested to increase the diversity of our conference, enabling middle and low-income students to participate cost-free. This experience sharpened my ability to present persuasively and align stakeholders behind a shared vision. Such client-facing skills will enable me to support clients and deliver solutions in Goldman Sachs' Wealth Management Division.

Additionally, last December I completed an analyst role in Wesleyan's Investment Group, which oversees a small portion of the school's endowment. Through this role, I completed Wall Street Prep's Financial Modelling Course, which has given me ample knowledge on accounting, financial statement modelling, discounted cash-flows and excel. I believe this knowledge will supplement my learning as I go through the training required for the role.

A summer internship at Goldman Sachs would enable me to grow beyond the limits of any internship experience and truly fulfill my potential. I believe my commitment to diversity, curiosity, and diligence will make me a valuable addition to your team. I would welcome the opportunity to interview, and I can be reached at 860/436-7048 or nivie@wesleyan.edu. Thank you in advance for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,
Naomi Ivie